

MONARCH

notes

NEWS FOR THE KING'S COLLEGE COMMUNITY

A Catholic College Sponsored by the Congregation of Holy Cross

The week of March 7, 2005

PUBLISHED BY THE KING'S COLLEGE PUBLIC RELATIONS OFFICE

Run with King's Sports Medicine for scholarship fund

As part of Shape Up PA, King's Gold Medal Team, the "Sports Med Phatties" is working to retain its gold medal in 2005 by developing healthy habits, losing weight, and increasing activity levels. Shape Up PA runs through June 29 and is part of National Athletic Training Month.

Pictured is the current Sports Med Phatties Team, seated from left: Carissa Knouse and Jamie McDermott. Standing: Betty Didgeon, Kristy Hart, Amy Zawadzki, Melissa Stavinski, Greg Janik, and Brendon McDermott. Absent from photo is Rev. Anthony Grasso, C.S.C., and Erick Hart.

The photo at left is published as an incentive for the team to 'Shape Up' during National Athletic Training Month. Stay tuned to Monarch Notes for an "after" photo of the Sports Med Phatties Team.

Runners and walkers are invited to join members of the King's College Sports Medicine department at Kirby Park in Kingston for the first Northeast Pennsylvania Athletic Training 5K Run/1 Mile Walk. The race is part of National Athletic Training Month and is on Sunday, March 13, at 11 a.m.

The Northeast Pennsylvania Athletic Training 5K Run/1 Mile Walk will benefit the Northeastern Pennsylvania Athletic Training Scholarship fund, and the race's real winner will be the athletic training education student from northeast Pennsylvania to win a scholarship. Those eligible for the award include students from King's College, East Stroudsburg University, Marywood University, and Alvernia College.

An awards ceremony and presentations by King's athletic training education students covering such topics as, "Common Running Pathologies" and "Nutritional Considerations in Runners" will follow the race. The program is in the Burke Auditorium at 1 p.m.

King's sports medicine is seeking runners, walkers, sponsors or donations for the race. For more information, contact Kristy K. Hart, assistant clinical professor in sports medicine, at ext. 5391.

Volck to speak on March 15

Dr. Brian Volck – pediatrician, poet, humanitarian and cultural critic – will present three programs at King's on March 15.

At 11 a.m. and again at 3:30 p.m., Dr. Volck will speak about "Body Politics: Medicine, the Church, and the Scandal of Borders" in the Burke Auditorium. At 7 p.m., he will give a poetry reading, "The Doctor, the Poet and the Body." Dr. Volck's lecture and poetry reading is sponsored by the Departments of Theology and English, the Ethics Center, Public Policy Center, and the Catholic Identity and Mission Committee.

Experiencing the Arts

4- Photographers

through March 16

A collection of Mindy Nardone, Pete Nardone, Sam Cramer, and Josh Gabriel's photographs
Widmann Gallery
Sheehy-Farmer Campus Center

Noted rheumatologist to speak at King's, March 23

On March 23 renowned rheumatologist Raphael DeHoratius, M.D., of Philadelphia's Thomas Jefferson Medical College, will discuss "The Many Faces of Arthritis" at 1 p.m. in the Sheehy Farmer Campus Center. Dr. DeHoratius' talk is sponsored by King's, the Arthritis Foundation, and John Heinz Rehab.

Program sponsors for Dr. DeHoratius' discussion include Erwine's Home Health Care, Offset Paperback Mfrs., Forty Fort Eye Associates & Home Eye Care, and Mercy Health Partners. To reserve space at the lecture, please call Debbie Shaw at ext. 5700, or register online at www.kings.edu/arthritis.

Pictured at right, members of the program committee for the March 23 talk on "The Many Faces of Arthritis" at King's College, (seated): Roz Rowan of John Heinz Rehabilitation Institute; Dr. Bernard J. Healey, associate professor and department chairperson of health care administration; and Ruth Kemmerer of Eastern PA Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation. Standing: Dr. Mahmoud Fahmy, Wilkes University; Jackie Borthwick, marketing associate; Andy Gegaris, of preventive health services for the City of Wilkes-Barre; and Dr. Thomas K. Ross, assistant professor of health care administration.

St. Paddy's parade stops here

The Red-and-Gold will be decidedly green on Sunday, March 13, with King's College being well-represented at the 25th annual St. Patrick's Day parade in Wilkes-Barre. The festive procession begins on South Main Street at 1 p.m. and ends at King's College on North Main near Senunas' Bar.

The College choir, Cantores Christi Regis, will be transported along the parade route in the Wilkes-Barre trolley, the King's Security Jeep will be chauffeuring The Hon. Leo the Lion, and King's cheerleaders and Sigma Kappa Sigma members will be marching proudly. Come celebrate St. Patrick's Day and cheer on the King's parade contingent.

Panelists examine 'Integrity'

Integrity rests at the very foundation of civilized interaction and is honor's twin. Integrity is a core virtue of the Catholic Christian and liberal arts educational traditions. The King's Ethics Center, in cooperation with the Moral Development Project Team, presents a panel discussion on "Integrity" on Wednesday, March 30, at 3:30 p.m. in the Walsh Room of the Sheehy-Farmer Campus Center.

The discussion features presentations by Dr. Greg Bassham, Dr. Tara Shawver, Dr. David Glick, Atty. Richard Shiptoski, and Student Government President A. Spencer Davis. Dr. Joel Shuman, assistant professor of theology, is the moderator.

Successful Hispanic outreach

On Feb. 26, more than 25 civic, social service and educational organizations participated in a Community Resource Fair for the local Hispanic Community. The event included presentations on job training and small businesses, and on immigration and legal issues. Information tables dealt with such topics as health care, children's services, budget planning and consumer credit, domestic violence, housing and education.

The event was sponsored by King's Hispanic Outreach Project, economics department, Public Policy and Social Research Institute, Ethnic Communities and Associations Outreach, department of political science, Latin American Studies Program, admissions office, Office of College Diversity, Office of Volunteer Services, and by Sodexo. Co-chairs of the event were Dr. Ryan Sheppard, assistant professor of sociology, and Dr. Anne Massey, assistant professor of foreign languages and literatures.

Calendar of Events

LENT 2005

Daily Mass

Chapel of Christ the King

Monday through Friday: Noon

Sunday: 11 a.m., 7 and 9 p.m.

Stations of the Cross:

Prayer booklets available in the chapel to pray the stations privately

Monday 3/7

Winter Break begins

Wrestling at NCAA Tournament, St. Olaf, Minn., TBA

Tuesday 3/8

Wrestling at NCAA Tournament, St. Olaf, Minn., TBA

Do You Have News to Share with the King's Community?

Please e-mail your information to Public Relations Assistant Joseph Giomboni at: jrgiombo@kings.edu or call ext. 5957.